Print and laminate one of the sheets.

Both players need a peg and you need a dice. I would suggest covering up the numbers 4,5,6 on the die so as to make the game last longer or you could make a rule that if you throw a 4,5,6 you have to go back one or stay where you are.

Throw the die and what ever number you get you must move your peg up the board, one word at a time. Whichever emotion word you land on you must tell about a time when you felt like that. You could adapt this to 'make the expression' or 'physical sensations' or 'act it out'. The first person to finish and get to the top is the winner BUT you must throw the exact number to finish on the top square.

If you are using our then copy one of these slides into your online lesson (instructions are included in your pack) Use the counters to play and move to the top. Simply copy and paste them into your slide.

One or both of you needs a dice to throw.
