

Thank you for purchasing this resource from ELSA Support.

You may use this resource for personal and/or classroom use only.

In order to support ELSA Support, please will you acknowledge www.elsa-support as the source of this resource.

You must not reproduce or share this resource with others in any form. Please direct them to the website where they can purchase it themselves.

You must not host or in any other way share the resources directly with others, without prior permission.

This product must not be used for commercial purposes and please do not alter the digital version of the product in any way.

Please respect the copyright of the resource you are downloading.

Thank you for downloading this resource

Best wishes

Debbie Dalphreyman

A pumpkin and different facial expressions

- Start off with just a couple of emotions such as happy and sad. How does the child feel today? Can they find the correct expression and put it on the pumpkin? Can they find the correct word? Do they know of any other words which mean the same as the emotion they have picked? For example if they picked happy, do they know of any other vocabulary that means the same as happy?

- Play a matching game using the emotions and the vocabulary. Can the child recognize the word card to stick below the face?

- Use two sets of the emotion cards and play matching games. You just simply find the same emotions and then name them or turn them upside down and play pairs. Add the vocabulary cards and play pairs with the emotion and the vocabulary.

- Use all the faces as playdough mats and the children can make their own expressions or give them a white board pen to draw the expression on the faces.

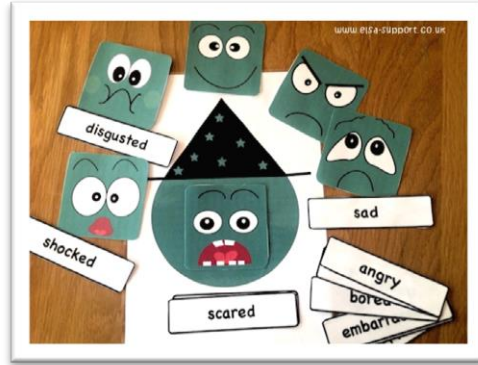

Dracula face and expressions.

Ghost and expressions.

Frankenstein face and expressions

Witch face and expression.

Use Halloween to talk about feelings. These might be excitement, worried or even a bit scared.

I hope you find this resource really useful. There are 15 expression cards altogether and five characters

Debbie Dalphreyman -